

Thesis based on primary data feedback sheet

Title: An Investigation on the Impact of Financial Technology in the Banking Sector.....

Student Name: Vit Helesic

Spervisor: Roy Meriton.....

Overall perspective Overall, your dissertation on investigating the impact of financial technology in the banking sector shows a thorough understanding of the topic and present some valuable insights. The dissertation demonstrates a solid understanding of the research topic and effectively utilised quantitative research methods to examine the impact of fintech on the banking sector. Referencing is concisent and follows APA7 standards.
Introduction, Abstract The introduction chapter effectively introduces the research topic and provides a clear rationale for the study. The research objectives are appropriately stated, and the research gap is identified, highlighting the significance of your research in addressing this gap.	6/10*
Methodology The methodology provides a clear and detailed explanation of the quantitative research design. You might not need to present other research designs which you do not apply in your research. You have	11/15*
Literature Review This chapter is comprehensive and well-structured, demonstrating thorough understanding of the relevant theories and previous research on fintech and its impact on the banking sector. The integration of multiple sources and the critical analysis of existing literature contribute to the depth of the literature review. It would be better if you could highlight the strengths and weaknesses of the prior studies and explicitly connect them to your research objectives. You might need t present the reliability and validity of your measures.	22/25*
Data analysis You have presented the results of your quantitative analyses in the clear and organised manner. You have used tables, charts, and graphs to effectively present your results. You have also presented the significance of the findings and implications for the banking sector in relations to the research objectives and relevant theories.	34/40*
Conclusions and Recommendations You might expand your practical implications and provide recommendations for policy makers and industry stakeholders.	5/10*
Mark (please enter the mark given by first or second marker)	78

Moderated Final Mark	Agreed mark
1st marker signature: 2nd marker signature.....Hang Nguyen.....

Turnitin match % (to be completed only by first marker)

24
